

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

According to the previous chapter, the conclusion can be drawn as: first, the Generation Z as this research respondents agreed that watching Western movies is a fun activity for EFL learning because they can use it as entertainment as well as learning media. Second, this research reveals that watching Western movies is beneficial for English use in everyday life because Generation Z can obtain daily expressions that can be applied in daily life. Moreover, Generation Z can improve their pronunciation through watching Western movies which directly affects their speaking skills. Lastly, watching Western movies is good for learning listening and speaking skills because native speakers speak in natural way in the movies so that Generation Z can learn from it.

As elaborated on the preceding chapter, the respondents sometimes also find challenge and obstacle during watching Western movies as digital EFL learning. It means that the learning process does not always go smoothly. Feeling bored with the movie plot when in the middle of the movie becomes a challenge for Generation Z when watching Western movies, even though at first they were enthusiastic about watching it. Meanwhile, being confused in selecting movies to watch is an obstacle for them.

5.2. Suggestion

After knowing the findings of this study, the researcher provides the following suggestions the respondents (Generation Z), the ELT/EFL teachers, and the future researcher.

5.2.1. The respondents (Generation Z)

The respondents should keep learning more to enhance their listening and speaking skills. For those who do not have partner to practice speaking skill, it will be better that begin to find out partner in virtual or real life in order to stimulate the skills.

5.2.2. The ELT/EFL teachers

Teachers should provide various media in teaching English. They can use Western movies as the teaching media in order to make the learning process more fun and enjoy. By using Western movies, learners will learn how the native speak in daily life. They can comprehend the accent and dialect. Furthermore, they can also get new idioms, slang words, and vocabularies.

5.2.3. The future researcher

After getting the positive result about watching Western movies as digital EFL learning especially for enhancing listening and speaking skills, the researcher suggests for reliable result. The future research should incorporate with larger group of people because this research only selected Generation Z from two bases on Twitter platform.

Moreover, this research only investigated the Generation Z's views toward watching Western movies as digital EFL learning on their listening and speaking skills. whereas it can be potential for other language skills. The researcher hopes the future research intend to study about other skills that might be improved through watching Western movies.
