

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

the conclusion back with the research question where the research question there are three that is, in the bound morpheme sentence there are inflectional and derivational, bound morpheme is formed a combination of words, the combination of words that can change the meaning is called derivational, but the combination of words that does not change the meaning is called inflectional.

1. In the bound morpheme sentence there are inflectional and derivational
2. Bound morpheme is formed from a combination of words, the combination of words that can change the meaning is called derivational, but the combination of words that does not change the meaning is called inflectional
3. The grammatical meaning from the word that found in bound morpheme sentence are 20 base from the result of the research.

5.2 Suggestion

in this case, it is better in learning English both formally and informally, English students are given knowledge about what is called morphology and what is morpheme, morphemes themselves are divided into two, namely bound morpheme and free morpheme, but what is discussed this time is bound morpheme, morphology itself is rarely known by English students they only know about grammar and speaking and others, but on the other hand they don't know what morphology is, it is hoped that teachers will give a little knowledge about morphology and its branches.

for further researchers who will conduct research on mobile legends, because the mobile legends game has a lot of English in it so that apart from being entertainment or games but also as knowledge of the importance of English as communication between teams in the game, further researchers are advised to examine every hero who is in the game, because each hero has its own dialogue which contains bound morphemes or free morphemes.
