

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

The chapter provides the conclusion which summarize the finding discussed in the chapter before. Besides, it also presents recommendation for the English teacher, students, and the future research.

5.1 CONCLUSION

From the result of the study, researchers concluded that;

- 1) Independent Curriculum is a new curriculum that emphasizes the interests, talents, and character of students. This curriculum assessment prioritizes projects, student activity while in the school environment and other things that help the process of developing student character. The independent curriculum has several differences from the previous curriculum including, learning tools that used to be syllabus and RPP have now changed CP, TP, and ATP, the independent curriculum which contains P5 (Project Strengthening Pancasila Student Profiles) in which there are various ways to apply it. The obstacles in implementing the independent curriculum are teacher's lack of understanding related to the independent curriculum, coordination to synergize with students who are lacking, the media used is also less able to master, the teacher's debriefing is lacking to implement this curriculum for schools and students. Things that need to be evaluated are programs that cannot be applied to students to be immediately reviewed so that they can be resolved soon, facilitating between students and teachers in the learning process such as the availability of qualified and adequate infrastructure suggestions.
- 2) The implementation of the independent curriculum makes students more familiar with their friends, because there are many aspects that can be taken when exchanging ideas in working on projects. the level of understanding increases when using the independent curriculum so it's easier to grasp the material, because students are given the freedom to look for material from various sources, that's what makes students enthusiastic about learning.

5.2 SUGGESTION

Based on the conclusion above, the researcher delivered some suggestion, go to:

1. The English Teachers

It has been known from the result of the study that the Independent Curriculum provides benefits for the learning process, teachers are given convenience in conveying material to students. So as English teachers we can increase the level of understanding and knowledge of students by implementing an independent curriculum in accordance with the direction of the government.

2. The Students

As students, we know that using Independent Curriculum, it can increase interest in talent and character towards the next active and competitive nation. As students should be able to collaborate and synergize with teachers to implement the independent curriculum, especially in English lesson.

3. Further Researchers

The researcher realizes that this research is far from being perfect. Hopefully, more researchers will be interested in researching independent curriculum in English Classrooms because this curriculum is still new, and over time there are certainly many adjustments and updates that can be found in further research.
